Frequently Asked Questions

- Q: How thick should I cut my steaks?
 A: Average is ¾ inch thick, but can do thicker or thinner based on personal preference
- Q: How many steaks should I put in a package?
 A: Average is 2, but depends on personal preference
- Q: What's the difference between a tenderized round steak and a minute steak?
 A: The tenderized round steak goes through the tenderizer 2-3 times averaging roughly 1 pound and the minute steak goes through 4-5 times averaging roughly 1/3 pound
- Q: How many pounds should my roasts be?
 A: Average is 3 pounds, but varies based on personal preference
- Q: What size packages of hamburger should I get?
 A: You can select 1, 1½ or 2 pound packages
- Q: I don't want ribs, brisket, soup bones, or stew meat. What happens to that meat?
 A: These will be trimmed and become ground beef or sausage items
- Q: I don't know a farmer but still want beef, what do I do?
 A: We have beef delivered from a local farmer for your purchase. You can buy a ¼, ½ or whole. Call us today for pricing! (Typically available February through May)
